Part One takes audiences on a decade-by-decade journey beginning in the 1940s, featuring costumes, stories, videos, and insights that connect cultural trends with the iconic women who shaped television. From I Love Lucy, The Adventures of Ozzie and Harriet, and The Dick Van Dyke Show to The Mary Tyler Moore Show, That Girl, All in the Family, Maude, and more, we'll explore how television reflected—and influenced—the lives of women through the decades.

Part Two celebrates family television from the 1980s onward, spotlighting favorites like Friends and The Golden Girls. We'll also examine the influence of talk shows on female audiences and revisit period dramas such as Downton Abbey and Bridgerton, exploring how women's stories continue to evolve on screen.
